

WINBURN WINTER

These young ladies took advantage of the Jan. 11 snowfall to visit Winburn Park, located off of Huron Street, south of West 112th Avenue.

As seen in the photo, some of the features found in the park include Art on Parade winner Ascension, ponds and a gazebo to enjoy the view.

What you don't see is the section of Greenway Trail and the large grassy field.

STATE OF THE CITY

A 50th Year to Remember

▶ Northglenn Continues to Grow, Develop for Future

2019 will be a milestone year for our city as we celebrate our 50th anniversary. Our year-long celebration of achievements promises to highlight our unique place along the Front Range. We are moving ahead with many projects including shopping revitalization, infrastructure updates, public safety improvements, and neighborhood engagement. We have so much to celebrate.

Dodge

As a recap of 2018, last September was a signature month as we cut the ribbon on our new Justice Center, the first new municipal building that Northglenn has constructed since the early 1980s. This state-of-the-art facility, home to our Police Department and Municipal Court, serves as a shining landmark of our proud city.

"While we look forward to celebrating 50 years of success, we are dedicated to making positive changes throughout our community and region."

Also, council approved construction of a new recreation center, theatre and senior center. With input from our residents, the recreation center will include a leisure pool, expanded fitness, cardio and weight rooms, and a walking track. Construction is anticipated to begin in late 2019.

Work is complete and the doors are open on the new Ralston House, a nonprofit organization that provides a safe place to interview juvenile victims or witnesses of crime.

Exciting improvements are on the horizon to refresh and rebrand the Northglenn Marketplace, including the addition of a movie theater and new retailers, service providers and restaurants. Also, the city is working with Karl's Farm Dairy to attract mixed-use development to the property.

The city has conducted extensive public outreach with residents and local business owners to update our Unified Development Ordinance, also known as the zoning code. The new code is more user-friendly, preserves community character and provides an updated template for future development.

To further engage and connect with our community, our city planners are creating neighborhood services that will feature a "Block Party Trailer" available for residents to rent at no charge. Community clean up events will be offered this spring, allowing the free drop off of unwanted and hard-to-dispose-of items.

The Police Department will conduct more outreach to better serve the community. There are plans to bolster our Neighborhood Watch program, collaborate with apartment communities to address crime trends related to high density housing, and educate businesses on crime prevention.

The city has started projects to enhance Northwest Open Space, including the addition of restrooms and a concession area, concrete trails, relocation of the playground, drainage improvements and increased parking on the central portion of the site. We are excited about the improvements to Kiwanis Pool, which include the addition of a new splash pad and replacement of the bath house. We are working toward completion of both projects in time for some summer fun.

- Reflects revenues received or expenditures approved outside the initial budget process

- Carries over operational contracts that overlap fiscal years

This amendment reflects $2.71 million in revenue and $3 million in expenditures. Go to www.northglenn.org/budget to view the document.

November Ballot Issue Implementation Approved

CB-1918 – Council voted 7-1 to approve on second reading an ordinance amending Chapter 5, Article 18 of the Municipal Code. This article concerns implementation of the city's special marijuana sales tax. Changes include:

- Increases the marijuana sales tax from 2 percent to 4 percent starting Jan. 1, 2019
- Adds language that allows council to increase or decrease the marijuana sales tax by no more than 1 percent each calendar year
- Sets the minimum tax rate of 4 percent and maximum of 10 percent that council may impose without further voter approval
- Amends the use of the tax revenue to include capital improvements and construction of public facilities

These changes reflect the passing of Northglenn Ballot Issue 3E in the November 2018 election. Yes: Dodge, Leighty, Willford, Duran Mullica, Downing, Brown, Esquibel. No: Whitman.

Resolutions:

Replacement for Pipeline Connecting City, Reservoir

CR-173 – Council unanimously approved a contract with American West Construction for the Terminal Reservoir Influent Pipeline Repair Project. American West will repair and replace the pipeline, which carries most of the raw water that the water treatment facility receives from Standley Lake. The cost will not exceed $765,306. April 30 is the scheduled completion date.

Design Contract for New Lift Station Approved

CR-174 – Council unanimously approved a contract with FEI Engineers for the design of the Bunker Hill Lift Station

SCOUT'S HONOR

City Council honored 13-year-old Eagle Scout Brian Tanner on Jan. 14 for his volunteer project to update signage in Northglenn parks. Brian coordinated the efforts of 26 volunteers from Troop 124 and his church to help repaint and update logos on 22 signs. The work was completed in only two days, Nov. 10 and 24, with each volunteer working about six hours. Thanks for all your hard work in keeping Northglenn beautiful!

JAN. 14, 2019

Public Notices Placed at City Hall, Website

CR-1 – Council unanimously approved the official posting locations for meeting notices in 2019. The City Hall bulletin boards and the city website, www.northglenn.org, will continue to house the notices.

Employee Guidelines Modified

CR-2 – Council unanimously approved changes to the city's employee guidelines. The document will contain a policy for handling paper or electronic documents with personal information of city employees and expands the notification process if a data breach occurs. Also, it will have protocol related to employee identification cards.

Trash Trucks Purchased

CR-3 – Council unanimously approved buying two trash trucks from Faris Machinery Company for $599,648.

Funds Allocated to Standley Lake Account

CR-4 – Council unanimously approved allocating $150,000 to the Standley Lake Pipeline Joint Operating Committee (SLPJOC) escrow account. The pipeline transfers water from Standley Lake to Northglenn and Thornton. The two cities operate the account, use the funds to maintain the line and share maintenance costs equally.

Biosolid Contract Approved

CR-5 – Council unanimously approved an agreement with Veris Environmental. The company will load, haul and dispose of biosolids from the Wastewater Treatment Plant in 2019. The cost will not exceed $300,000.

Improvements For East 112th Avenue

CR-172 – Council unanimously approved an agreement with T&M Construction for the 112th Avenue Corridor Improvements Project. T&M will:

- Improve the roadway on East 112th Avenue
- Extend the sidewalk on the north side of 112th Avenue from the train tracks to York Street
- Improve the intersection at 112th Avenue and York Street
- Install a new traffic signal at Fox Run Parkway and 112th Avenue

The price will not exceed $768,936.60. Federal funding will cover the majority of that cost.

Project. Lift stations are pumps that help move sewage to wastewater plants.

The Bunker Hill Lift Station serves the community north of 120th Avenue, between Race Street and Claude Court. It has a capacity of .5 million gallons per day (MGD), but that will not be enough when Karl's Farm is developed. The new Bunker Hill Lift Station will have a 1.3 MGD capacity. The total cost will not exceed $306,734. The city will cover 28 percent and the developer the remaining 72. Construction should run from the third quarter of 2019 to the second quarter of 2020.

Equipment Purchase for Public Works Department

CR-175 – Council unanimously approved purchase orders for Public Works Department equipment. The city will buy a front end wheel loader from Honnen Equipment for $224,843 and a dump box and sander from O.J. Watson Company for $49,999.

Support for Grant Application for Sensory Playground

CR-6 – Council unanimously supported a city application for an Adams County Open Space grant. The application seeks $375,000 for the Sensory Playground Improvements Project. The project has $250,000 of internal funds already earmarked.

Improvements include replacing worn playground equipment and site amenities, and patching poured-in-place surfacing. If the city secures enough funds, it will replace the entire surface and install new entryway arches. The playground sits inside E.B. Rains Jr. Memorial Park. Grant results will likely come in May.

Contract Updated Due to Company Merger

CR-8 – Council unanimously approved the assignment of the Bunker Hill Lift Station design contract. It will now be between the city and Alan Plummer Associates, instead of FEI Engineers. FEI joined Alan Plummer on Jan. 1 and is now doing business under that name. Due to the merger and change in name, the city must assign the contract to the new company.

Take Tots to Tyke Town

► Provides Unstructured Play Time in Gym for Toddlers Friday Mornings

The cold, wet months of winter can bring on cabin fever for stay-at-home parents and their toddlers.

In response, the city has Tyke Town. Parents can take their tots ages 2 to 5 to the Northglenn Recreation Center for unstructured playtime. We provide fun equipment and plenty of space in the gymnasium. Your young ones will move, play, climb, jump, tumble, ride and bounce. You just need to stay with them while they play!

Plus, you and your child not only escape the house, you also interact with other kids (and parents).

Tyke Town runs Fridays from 9:45 to 11:15 a.m. through April 26. Cost is $2 per resident child, $2.25 for non-resident children at the rec center, 11801 Community Center Drive. Punch passes are also available.

For more information, call 303.450.8800.

Adams 12 Superintendent Honored as Top Area CEO

Gdowski

On Nov. 13, 2018, Chris Gdowski, superintendent of Adams 12 Five Star Schools, was recognized as one of Metro Denver's Most Admired CEOs by the Denver Business Journal. Gdowski is one of 15 executives honored out of over 100 nominations.

In order to be considered, awardees had to be the top-level executive for more than a year at a for-profit or nonprofit company with a significant presence in the Denver metro area. Gdowski was named superintendent of the Five Star District in 2009.

"It is an honor to be recognized, not just for me personally but as a testament to the good work happening for students in Adams 12 Five Star Schools," Gdowski said. "This award is only possible because our incredible staff works so hard to ensure every child has a chance to succeed."

For the past three years Adams 12 Five Star Schools has sustained the greatest academic growth compared to other school districts in Colorado serving 10,000 or more students.

At this kick-off for the mural, city residents are encouraged to bring their favorite photo of Northglenn from the past. Take a printed copy, digital copy or provide the original – we'll scan it.

Not all photos will be directly used in the mural. However, they will be source material and inspiration for the design process and possibly placed on the city's website and/or social media.

Also, project artist Chad Bolsinger will be on hand listening to inspiring memories of the city.

For more information, contact Michael Stricker at 303.450.8727 or mstricker@northglenn.org.

The city printed a limited run of 50th Anniversary calendars that are free to residents. It contains historic dates, photos and information, along with events going on in the city this year. Pick one up at City Hall or at one of the city's 50th anniversary celebrations!

We understand that traffic is a concern, and the city is taking measures to mitigate speeding issues and provide safer crossings. Speed humps were installed for traffic calming at Claude Court, Livingston Drive, Melody Drive and 112th Place.

Also, a federal grant and city dollars will fund engineering, design and roadway improvements at East 112th Avenue. The sidewalk will be extended at the future commuter train crossing at the intersection of East 112th Avenue and York Street and a traffic signal will be installed at Fox Run Parkway and 112th Avenue.

Upgrades to the city's water and waste water infrastructure will continue in 2019 to assure residents have safe drinking water and a reliable sewer system. The Northglenn Underground Water Project will enter the design phase as we hire a contractor to configure an improved pump and pipe system for transporting wastewater.

Finally, we will continue efforts to connect with residents through our anniversary celebration, events with our elected officials, telephone town hall meetings, fresh programming on NGTV, and engaging content on our social media channels.

While we look forward to celebrating 50 years of success, we are dedicated to making positive changes throughout our community and region.

We welcome 2019 and will continue to build on 50 years of pride, history and prosperity. Northglenn is an amazing community with residents who care deeply about their hometown. There's no limit to what we can accomplish together.

Mayor Carol Dodge

Save-A-Lot Opens

► Huron Center Redevelopment Now Complete

The city celebrated the addition of a new grocery store on Jan. 9 at the grand opening of Save-A-Lot, located in the Huron Center at 104th Avenue and Huron Street. This Save-A-Lot location is the first in the nation to feature the chain's new, modern design and also is the first Northglenn grocery store on the west side of Interstate 25 in more than 10 years.

"I think our residents will be thrilled with Save-A-Lot due to the incredible selection, spaciousness of the store, diverse products and especially their low prices," said Mayor Carol Dodge. "I really look forward to shopping there."

The opening of the grocery store completes the $13 million redevelopment project at the Huron Center, which also includes a new Arby's and AutoZone.

"This project is a great example of what urban renewal authorities can do to revitalize challenging commercial areas by bringing stakeholders to the table," said Rosie Garner, chair of Northglenn Urban Renewal Authority.

This is the 16th Colorado location for Save-A-Lot. All of the Colorado locations are owned and operated by Leever's Supermarkets, which is headquartered in Franktown. Leever's Supermarkets, doing business as Save-A-Lot, started as a family-owned business in 1938. In 2012, Leever's Supermarkets became a 100 percent employee-owned company with approximately 200 members, a 65 percent minority ownership and 21 stores located in Colorado and Florida.

President John Leever's said, "We try to go one step further by working with customers to build healthier families and communities. When you shop with us, you support our local employee owners."

Leever's takes pride in customizing their Save-A-Lot stores to meet the unique needs of each individual community. Save-A-Lot strives to work closely with their neighborhoods to meet the desires of their customers. A community meeting was held on Oct. 25 to get feedback and suggestions from Northglenn residents on what types of products and services that they would like to have at the store.

Additionally, they conducted an online survey to have residents express their shopping preferences and habits. They received 164 responses. Based on the community feedback, many of those ideas have been incorporated at the store, including free coffee and a seating area for shoppers.

In addition, the Northglenn location is the only Save-A-Lot store that offers 'Grab-N-Go' items, a convenient feature due to the proximity to Northglenn High School.

"This project is a great example of what urban renewal authorities can do to revitalize challenging commercial areas by bringing stakeholders to the table."

IS YOUR HOME SAFE FROM RADON?

What is radon?
Radon is a naturally occurring invisible, odorless gas that comes from the natural radioactive breakdown of uranium in soil, rock, and water.

Radon can enter any home
Radon is drawn in through cracks and gaps in the foundation.

Uranium → Radium → Radon

1. Uranium decays and creates radium
2. Radium decays and creates radon gas

About 50% of homes in Colorado have high radon levels.

Radon occurs naturally in soil
Due to the geology of Colorado, homes in our state have higher levels of radon than the national average.

Please go to www.tchd.org/630/Radon for more information.

DON'T LEAVE CARS RUNNING UNATTENDED

Keep your cars safe – don't leave them running unattended. In cold weather, thieves prowl on 'puffers' and typically find them in driveways, parking lots and gas stations.

The harm goes beyond the hassle and heartache of reporting and possibly replacing the vehicle. Criminals often use stolen vehicles to commit more misdeeds. They can also use any documents, keys or garage door openers in the vehicle to wreak havoc on your identity, security and peace of mind.

Thankfully – the solution is simple. Do not leave your car running unattended. That includes warming it up on chilly mornings, going in a convenience store or even pumping gas.

If you want to make sure you have a warm car in the morning – consider a remote starter. The keys aren't in the vehicle, so thieves can't steal it.

What Does It Mean to Be Mexican?

► Provocative Play Based on Hit Column Touches on Race, Culture and Society

Are you ready for education and ridicule rolled into one juicy taco?

Northglenn Arts is hosting a Su Teatro production of "Interview with a Mexican."

Based on conversations with Gustavo Arellano, columnist and author of "Ask a Mexican" and "Taco USA," the play is a carnival of conversations about what it means to be Mexican – inside or outside the U.S.

"We are not fire breathers – more like spit-ters, but we are offering an opportunity to share and exchange," said Anthony J. Garcia, executive artistic director for Denver-based Su Teatro. "We do not believe we are part of the margins and that what we are saying is so exotic or foreign; this will be a great opportunity to prove this."

The play follows Arellano as he challenges "gabachos" (white people) to "come out of the closet and ask the obvious, ignorant and sometimes racist questions, wherein they will be met with derision and insult, but also with a tremendous amount of insight and informativeness."

"The show is not afraid of criticizing our own, but it is also willing to dish it out as well," said Garcia. "It is frank and provocative and sometimes very silly. What is the goal? To have fun."

Garcia is acutely aware of the racially and politically polarized climate in this country, which he says is being fueled by fear. What's left is a severe lack of communication and an abundance of misconceptions.

"Will "Interview with a Mexican" change the mind of the polar sides of our political spectrum? – probably not," said Garcia. "But it might provide a chance to push some buttons and get some cheap laughs."

"To engage a variety of communities, Gustavo says, " Listen y comprenden" listen and learn. He doesn't always say agree."
