2023 NORTHGLENN YEAR IN REVIEW

Meeting Our Strategic Goals

Leighty

Our city wrapped up a five-year Strategic Plan in 2023. We picked eight focus areas in 2019 (see right) and made tremendous progress. I am proud of the work that has been done and, specifically, in how we utilized, leveraged, and found resources through city funds, partnerships, grants, innovative ideas, and best practices to make it all happen.

In 2023 alone, we celebrated big milestones. Construction started on our new City Hall, the Public Works Department earned national accreditation, new flock cameras went into operation to enhance public safety, we joined a solar co-op, welcomed Prost to Northglenn, finished widening 120th Avenue, met new neighbors at Karl's Farm, and – thanks to voters – when I refer to the City Charter I now read “the Mayor” instead of “he” and “his.” Please read our Year in Review for a summary of all the great things we accomplished in Northglenn last year.

Our current council is excited to jump into the next iteration of our Strategic Plan. What would you like to see change, grow, or happen in Northglenn in the next five years? Part of the development process will include public engagement. I look forward to hearing your views on our city and our future this spring.

Northglenn is a shining example of what can be accomplished through working together. It shows how gathering input and practicing transparency builds trust and partnerships. It shows how council and staff advocacy in organizations throughout the region plants seeds for collaboration to benefit our community and others. There is more to tackle...and our past successes show us if we

In 2019, a five-year strategic plan was adopted to focus the city government's efforts by setting benchmarks to track and goals to achieve.

The strategic plan had around 190 individual initiatives, of which all but three were either accomplished, implemented, underway or deemed to be not feasible or possible at this time.

WEATHER OR NOT, HERE IT COMES...

The structure of the new Northglenn City Hall has been completed, just in time to deal with Colorado's late winter/early spring wet weather. Roofing and temporary plastic sheathing were installed to prevent damage from the elements to the structural frame. The construction team has been working on both interior and exterior framing. As the exterior framing is completed, the team has begun exterior sheathing, which is the yellow material that can be seen on the outside of the building. Sheathing functions as a protective layer to keep heat in the building and wind and water out. Staff anticipates the installation of window framing in February. When it opens, this 32,600-square-foot facility will be Net Zero and have a CORE Green Building Rating – the first municipal building in Colorado to achieve that certification. The $33.8M building is being funded completely through reserves and will be located next to the current City Hall.

► Go online to www.northglenn.org/newcityhall for more details and to see a live camera feed of the construction site.

DEMOLITION OF OLD REC CENTER SET FOR FEBRUARY

Demolition for the old recreation center is scheduled to begin in February, provided the city receives the necessary state permits. The demolition should be completed within 45 days of commencement of work. Once completed, the city will begin the reevaluation for what is next with City Council and the community. Afterwards, the land will be cleared and the city will seek new redevelopment opportunities for the parcel. ► For more information, go to www.northglenn.org/civiccenter.

Partner With Our Parks

Geyer

Our parks, trails and other public spaces are some of the reasons why Northglenn is a special community. Our spaces are always busy with walkers, runners, bicyclists, event attendees, sports teams, bird watchers, playground users, skaters, dog owners and more. Did you know one of the reasons we enjoy such wonderful amenities is because our community helps maintain our parks and trails? We call this “shared stewardship” and it is a best practice and a source of community pride/ownership.

We have a great staff of maintenance, rangers and seasonal workers to take care of and watch over our parks, open spaces and 35 miles of the Greenway Trail System. Programs like the Farmers’ Highline Canal Cleanup (see below), Parks and Trails Partners, flowerbed volunteers, and service projects help us go above and beyond our current level of service with the help and support of the community. If you, your family, work group, church group, service club or other organization would like to get involved, please reach out to our new community outreach coordinator, Jenna Gragg, at jgragg@northglenn.org or 303.450.8904. Details are available at www.northglenn.org/volunteer, and online sign up is open now for the Farmers’ Highline Canal Cleanup on March 23. This is one event I thoroughly enjoy! Cleaning up trash in the ditch year after year provides a perspective on how we can all do a better job in helping keep our parks and trails clean.

Please also remember to pick up after your dog. As a dog owner, I often see the issue of dog owners not picking up their dog waste and relying on neighbors to be the “poop fairy.”

Staff cannot be everywhere all the time, so support from park users is important. Please report graffiti, encampments, excessive trash, inappropriate behavior or damage on Access Northglenn (www.northglenn.org/accessnorthglenn). Call the police if you see unsafe or illegal behavior or are concerned about someone’s welfare. It’s important we all set an example of the behavior we expect when using our public spaces.

We have several big park improvements lined up, including new playgrounds in Fox Run and renovations at Kiwanis Pool, and more programs than ever scheduled in our parks this year – so bring on spring! If we continue to work together and encourage good stewardship, our parks, open spaces and trails will continue to provide places for healthy activities, a way to enjoy nature, and connection with each other.

– City Manager Heather Geyer

Farmers' Highline Canal Cleanup Expanding

► Thornton to Join Northglenn for Volunteer Event

Sat., March 23, 9-11 a.m., locations throughout Northglenn and Thornton

The Farmers' Highline Canal Cleanup isn't just about keeping Northglenn beautiful anymore!

In the past, volunteers have collected more than 300 bags of trash, plus the occasional tire, mannequin or bed every year. But this year, our neighbors in Thornton are joining us, meaning that many more trails, riverbeds and walkways will get the spring cleaning they need.

Everyone is invited and encouraged to take part, whether as an individual or a group.

► To sign up for an area in Northglenn, go online to www.northglenn.org/fhcc.

If you know someone who would like to help in Thornton, send them to Gocot.net/volunteer.

As a bonus, all volunteers will receive lunch.

► For more information, contact Jenna Gragg at jgragg@northglenn.org or 303.450.8904. In case of inclement weather, the cleanup will move to March 30.

► Deza Estates Neighborhood Added to National Register of Historic Places

▲ Some of the homes in the Deza Estates neighborhood

Map of Deza Estates ▼

On Nov. 24, 2023, the Deza Estates neighborhood was added to the National Register of Historic Places, the official list of the nation’s locations worthy of preservation.

The district is an example of the Modern Movement style of architecture and unique post-war development. The neighborhood consists of entirely custom-built homes at a time when suburban residential developments were based on a set number of models to choose from. The homes were built in the late 1950s, before Northglenn incorporated, and sit in the southwest corner of the city.

Deza Estates joins the Stonehocker Farmhouse and St. Stephen’s Lutheran Church as city locations on the register.

LOS DOS POTRILLOS HONORED FOR INVESTMENT IN NORTHGLENN WITH NEW RESTAURANT

Note: This is the third in a series featuring winners from the 2023 Business Appreciation Event. Go to www.northglenn.org/bab to see videos of all the winners.

Council with Cesar Berumen, Director of Operations for Los Dos Potrillos, at the Business Appreciation Event in October

“Northglenn was one of those cities where we felt that Los Dos Potrillos just needed to be here,” said Daniel Ramirez, co-owner of Los Dos Potrillos Cocina y Cantina, and winner of the 2023 Investment of the Year Award.

Family-owned and operated, the Mexican restaurant opened in Northglenn last April, Los Dos Potrillos' first in the north metro area.

Ramirez' parents opened the original Los Dos Potrillos in Centennial in 2002 and has expanded to include restaurants in Highlands Ranch, Littleton, and Parker.

The family takes pride in their scratch kitchen and desires to provide fresh, quality food. From cilantro, onion, pico de gallo, guacamole, steak and chicken, all are cut fresh at each location with a phenomenal chef. The most popular item on the menu at all of their locations is the Chile Relleno Nachos.

All-in, Ramirez shared they invested $2.5 million in their Northglenn restaurant.

“We have loved the support and amazing people in Northglenn. We made a great investment here,” said Ramirez.

When customers come into Los Dos Potrillos, they want you to feel welcome and that it is your new home.

Don't Leave Your Car Alone While Running

It's chilly out, but please don't leave your car unlocked and running just so it can warm up.

Cars running alone outside, commonly known as 'puffers', are prime targets for theft. Criminals pass by neighborhoods, parking lots, gas stations and convenience stores looking for puffers. If one is spotted, the car could be gone in just a few seconds.

Car theft causes plenty of angst for the owner. There's insurance, lost documents and replacing items. Criminals have access to keys, the address, garage door opener and more. Plus, these stolen cars are often used to commit other crimes.

Thankfully, there's an easy solution. If your car is running, don't leave it unattended. You can also use a remote starter, since the keys aren't in the vehicle. Warming up your car in the garage will work, but please make sure the garage door is up far enough to let out dangerous exhaust fumes.

If your car is stolen, contact law enforcement immediately. If you know the theft occurred in the previous 15 minutes, call 911. If more time than that has passed or you are unsure, call 303.288.1535.

A Message from Police Chief Jim May

Progress Made in 2023, Progress Coming in 2024

May

As we kick off a new year, I want to take a moment to look back on 2023. It was a year of perseverance, dedication, and strides toward ensuring the safety and well-being of our community.

Throughout the past year, our police department remained unwavering in its commitment to serving the needs of you, our residents. We responded to more than 48,000 calls for service, a testament to our readiness and availability whenever you needed us.

► Go to Pages 6 and 7 for more Public Safety highlights in the city's 2023 Year in Review.

Another encouraging aspect of 2023 was the decrease in homicides compared to the previous year. In 2022, Northglenn lost five lives to tragic circumstances. However, in 2023, that number dropped to three, marking a 40% decrease. This decline signifies the effectiveness of our collective efforts in fostering a safer environment.

I'm also thrilled to share that Northglenn Police added 14 new sworn officers in 2023. These additions not only strengthen our force but also signify our continued commitment to keep our community safe.

New Reporting Tool Coming

Looking forward to 2024 – the Northglenn Police Department will launch an online reporting system for certain criminal incidents. This new tool will empower residents to report identified property crime incidents promptly without the need to wait for a police officer, streamlining the reporting process and contributing to a safer community. Look for our launch of this new tool in the first quarter of 2024. We are excited about how this new crime reporting option will modernize law enforcement practices and enhance community involvement.

Thank you for your continued trust and support.

NORTH METRO FIRE RESCUE DISTRICT

North Metro Fire Rescue provides emergency fire and ambulance services to residents in Northglenn, Broomfield, and unincorporated areas of four counties.

Free CPR, Bleeding Control Class Sat., March 2, North Metro Fire Headquarters, 101 Spader Way, Broomfield

North Metro Fire is hosting two free non-certification CPR classes and bleeding control training. Residents of all ages are invited to learn these lifesaving skills in an interactive and engaging class taught by North Metro firefighters. You'll leave knowing how to perform CPR on adults and children, how to use an AED, and what actions to take to stop bleeding from a serious injury.

- CPR Class #1: 8-10 a.m.
- Bleeding Control Training: 10:30-11:30 a.m.
- CPR Class #2: 12-2 p.m.

Both CPR sessions provide the same training.

► Register today to ensure your spot at www.nmfr.org/cpr.

Spring Fire Citizens Academy

Tuesdays, March 26 to May 4, 6-9 p.m.

Registration is now open for North Metro Fire's Citizens Academy. Participants will gain in-depth knowledge of North Metro Fire and its operations through interactive, hands-on sessions taught by North Metro firefighters. ► Learn more about this exciting opportunity, and sign up online by Feb. 23 at www.nmfr.org/citizensacademy.

Save With Ambulance Membership

Have you signed up or renewed your Ambulance Membership with North Metro Fire? It's not too late. The annual cost is $40 for individuals, $45 to $55 for families. All Northglenn residents with health insurance are eligible. ► Sign up online today to help cover costs related to an emergency transport on the ambulance at www.nmfr.org/amp.

DONATE YOUR CELL PHONE FOR A GOOD CAUSE

How long has that old cell phone been sitting in your drawer? Put it to good use by dropping it off at the barrel in the Justice Center lobby! It will be used as an emergency-only cell phone by domestic violence victims, seniors and others. (All personal information will be cleared from the phone before being given away.)

17TH DA ACADEMY THIS FEBRUARY & MARCH

Tuesdays and Thursdays, Feb. 20-March 14, 5:30-8:30 p.m., 17th Judicial District Attorney's Office, 1000 Judicial Center Drive, Brighton

The 17th Judicial District Attorney's Office (17th DAO) and District Attorney Brian Mason invite Adams County and Broomfield residents to this free program where you will learn about the inner workings of the office and the criminal justice system overall.

► To apply for the academy, go to <https://forms.office.com/g/D2S4cfrGD>.

► For more details, contact Chris Hopper at chopper@da17.state.co.us.

About the District Attorney's Office

The 17th Judicial District Attorney's Office is responsible for the prosecution of misdemeanor, traffic, and felony cases in Adams and Broomfield Counties. It represents the people of the State of Colorado and seeks justice on behalf of crime victims and their families.

The city's Aquifer Storage and Recovery (ASR) project has hit its first milestone. The desired depth of the first well has been reached and now construction of that well will begin shortly. Once construction of the first well is finalized, staff can begin test pumping. After the first well is finished, crews will start on the second. Both will be located adjacent to the Water Treatment Facility, 2350 W. 112th Ave.

ASR injects water into deep bedrock aquifers for long-term storage. The water is then available for future recovery during droughts or seasonal high-demand periods. If successful, ASR will provide additional drought resilience and sustainability to the city's water supplies. The viability of the project will be decided sometime in 2024.

Drilling can run 24 hours a day at times. Sound walls are in place to help mitigate the noise, but those nearby may still be able to hear the drilling.

The city thanks you for your understanding and apologizes for any inconvenience.

► For more information on the project, go to www.northglenn.org/aquifer.

RESOURCE CENTRAL WATER CONSERVATION PROGRAMS

The city partners with Resource Central, a nonprofit based out of Boulder, which works to save water, conserve energy, and reduce waste.

Reserve Your Garden In A Box

Tackle that problem area in your yard once and for all by planting a beautiful, waterwise Garden In A Box this spring.

Professionally designed for Colorado yards, these kits are super easy to install and can help you save around 7,300 gallons of water over the garden's lifetime compared to a traditional grass lawn (not to mention helping you save on your water bill!). Starting at just $127, these kits are beautiful AND affordable.

► Visit ResourceCentral.org/Gardens to order your waterwise Garden In A Box today, and claim your discount for Northglenn customers.

How Do EVS Impact Environment?

Xcel Energy

EVs are a great transportation option that can lower your environmental impact.

- Fueling your vehicle with electricity instead of gasoline can reduce emissions by two-thirds, mainly due to the lack of tailpipe emissions.
- Manufacturing batteries and charging EVs results in greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. However, the US Environmental Protection Agency reports that over its lifetime, the total GHG emissions associated with manufacturing, charging, and driving an EV are typically 60%-68% lower than GHG emissions associated with the lifetime of a gasoline-powered car.

- EVs can be charged with renewable energy. Xcel Energy customers already participate in charging with renewable energy, including solar power and wind energy.

- Costs: Although the upfront costs of EVs are higher than gas-powered cars, EVs cost less to operate due to lower maintenance and fuel costs. During low, off-peak energy prices, driving electric equates to spending about $1 per gallon equivalent of gasoline.

► For more information about EVs, go online to <http://ev.xcelenergy.com>.

NEW RTD FARE STRUCTURE

As of Jan. 1, you might have noticed your trip on RTD was cheaper. RTD underwent an extensive Fare and Equity Study over the past year.

One of the largest changes is that there are no longer local vs regional fares. It is just one standard fee for the Denver metro area, only $5.50 for all day or $2.75 for a three-hour pass!

► For other pricing updates, go to <https://www.rtd-denver.com>.

A Change for People's Choice

► "Metamorphosis" Selected for Permanent Placement in the City

The Northglenn Arts & Humanities Foundation (NAHF) announced artist Vanny Channal as the recipient of the 2023/2024 People's Choice Award for his scrap metal sculpture "Metamorphosis." The award is part of Northglenn's Art on Parade program. It features on-loan, outdoor sculptures exhibited at E.B. Rains, Jr. Memorial Park for one year. The public votes for their favorite, and NAHF works toward purchasing the piece for permanent display in Northglenn.

"When you look at where Cambodia should be on the earth portion of the sculpture, the outline of Cambodia is blown up to represent the footprint I am making as an artist but also as a voice for my people. As a Cambodian American with refugee parents, my life experiences are the experiences of a minority group within a cluster of other minority groups," said Channal, a Brighton resident.

The artist feels that the story of each of his scrap metal sculptures is also his story, sharing, "My story of overcoming circumstances, my story of redemption, my story of taking something that outlived its purpose and giving it a new chance at life."

► For more information about Vanny Channal and his metal fabrication shop, Steel 'N' Pacific, visit <https://steelnepacific.godaddysites.com>.

The piece will remain on display at E.B. Rains, Jr. Memorial Park through May, at which time six new sculptures-on-loan will be installed. The permanent location for "Metamorphosis" will be announced later in 2024. The NAHF has already secured funding for the piece from the Scientific and Cultural Facilities District (SCFD).

► For more information about Art on Parade or NAHF, call Michael Stricker at 303.450.8727.

Honoring a Legacy

► Proposal for Gallery at Parsons Theatre to be Named for Lucille Ruibal Rivera

Rivera

The late Lucille Ruibal Rivera played a pivotal role in fostering collaboration and enriching the Northglenn arts community. As a member of the Northglenn Arts and Humanities Foundation (NAHF) and the Diversity, Inclusivity and Social Equity Board, Lucille played a crucial role in promoting inclusivity. In recognition of her dedicated service to the community, a proposal has been brought forward to the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board by the NAHF to name the gallery wall in the lobby of the Parsons Theatre in her honor.

The proposal submitted by the NAHF stated, "As an accomplished artist and photographer, she shared her passion for art and inclusivity with everyone she encountered. We believe that naming the gallery space in her honor is a fitting tribute to her life of service and dedication to our community."

As a key figure in facilitating collaboration between Northglenn Arts and the Chicano Humanities & Art Council

"As an accomplished artist and photographer, she shared her passion for art and inclusivity with everyone she encountered."

—From the NAHF naming proposal

(CHAC), she curated a space that provided extraordinary experiences for residents and visitors to the Parsons Theatre. Her commitment to showcasing a broad spectrum of art, including works representing the LGBTQIA+ community, Dia de los Muertos celebrations, street art, and the creations of the late Stevon Lucero, reflected her dedication to diversity and cultural representation. In addition, Lucille was a former clinic administrator for Denver Health and helped launch the Tepeyac Community Health Center.

As per the Parks Naming Policy, there is a 90-day assessment period during which the board is seeking any support, opposition or alternatives to the proposal. Anyone who would like to provide feedback to the Parks Board about the proposal is invited to attend their meeting on Thursday, Feb. 8, or Thursday, March 14, at 5:30 p.m. in City Council Chambers. Options are also available to participate remotely or to submit feedback via email. Please contact Christie Chambers at 303.280.7821 or cchambers@northglenn.org.

A Sweet Slice into America's Social Fabric Celebrating Black History Month

Dasha Kelly Hamilton, renowned as Wisconsin's Poet Laureate and Milwaukee's Artist of the Year in 2021, presents "Makin' Cake," a spoken word performance that not only slices into American history but also serves as a poignant exploration of race, culture, and class, all within the delicious metaphor of cake.

Despite Dasha's confession, "I love cake, and I don't bake. At all, ever," the title of the show takes on a deeper significance. Cake becomes a creative lens through which to examine the intricate ingredients woven into the fabric of American society, especially during the month dedicated to honoring Black history.

Dasha provocatively asks, "If cake were our national conversation, what can we learn from the layers, from the active agents blended into the recipe and process?"

With poignant vignettes, digital media, and a supporting cast of on-stage bakers, Dasha crafts a story-telling experience that serves up more than just entertainment—it sparks a conversation about equity in America.

Originally commissioned by the John Michael Kohler Arts Center, "Makin' Cake" involved Dasha facilitating arts-based conversations on race and class in Sheboygan.

As the show continues to evolve, it incorporates diverse voices and perspectives, making it a fitting celebration for Black History Month.

"If cake were our national conversation, what can we learn from the layers, from the active agents blended into the recipe and process?"

Adding to the excitement of the evening, local celebrity Cleo Parker Robinson will join the performance as a special guest baker. Robinson, a prominent figure in the local community, brings her own flair to the celebration. As the founder of Cleo Parker Robinson Dance, she has made significant contributions to the arts, enriching the cultural landscape.

"Makin' Cake" is a short story about America's sweet tooth and pathway to salvation—and leaves room for dessert and dialogue with a cake reception immediately following the performance.
