Keep Northglenn Beautiful Farmers' Highline Canal Clean Up on March 19

(Northglenn, CO) Looking for a way to get outside, enjoy some great exercise and help out in your community?

The Farmers' Highline Canal and Greenway Trail Clean Up is Saturday, March 19, from 8:30 to 11 a.m.

"I see the difference that it makes after we do it," said Mayor Pro Tem Carol Dodge, Ward 1. "When you drive around the city, it's just spotless, and I know that we came out here and did a really good job."

The city is looking for more than 100 volunteers to help clean canals, trails and parks. Last year, over 325 volunteers helped out. They included scout troops, church and school groups, and boards and commissions.

"I think people really love the feeling of community," said event coordinator Jenni Murphy. "Northglenn is small and people take a lot of personal pride in keeping their community nice and clean."

Last year the volunteers collected over 300 bags of trash from parks and trails throughout Northglenn – from Fox Run all the way to Northwest Open Space. A lot of large debris was also removed.

Check-in is at the Police Department entrance at City Hall, 11701 Community Center Drive.
